

Once you find a suitable place to live, most landlords will ask you to sign a lease agreement. Some landlord has required last and first-month rent. A lease agreement can be a month-to-month arrangement or a 12-month arrangement. This is a binding, legal agreement between you and the landlord and will detail the rights and responsibilities of both parties. Read it carefully before you sign!

Homestays allow you to learn English in a natural setting. They also help you to adapt quickly to live in Canada and provide you with a better understanding of Canadian culture. This can be a very rewarding option if you are flexible and willing to adjust to a new environment. Meals are shared with the host family.
