

JOINT HEALTH AND SAFETY COMITTEE

WHAT IS THE JOINT HEALTH AND SAFETY COMMITTEE:

The Joint Health and Safety Committee (JHSC) is an advisory body which consists of representatives from both management and workers who collaborate to addresses health and safety concerns, and ensure compliance with the Occupational Health and Safety Act (OHSA) and regulations.

TASKS & RESPONSIBILITIES:

JHSC members must have knowledge of the Occupational Health and Safety Act (OHSA), the Internal Responsibility System (IRS), Committee Powers, and Certified Member Roles. Together, these four pillars help improve our teams knowledge of hazards in the workplace, and ways to recognize, assess and control them.

POSITIONS:

- Co-chairs
- Secretary
- Certified members
- Non-certified members

NOTABLE OHSA POLICIES:

- Industrial Establishments: Regulation 851.
- General Duty Clause: Section 25(2)(h).
- Joint Health and Safety Committees: Section 9.
- Certified Member Duties and Responsibilities: Section 9(19) and Reg. 297/13.
- Functions of The Committee: Subsections 43(3) and 43(4).
- Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS): Regulation 860.
